The term 'occult' should not to be confused with the similar sounding word 'cult'.

'Occult' comes for the Latin 'occultus' meaning "hidden or secret."

Other terms one might encounter related to the occult include:

Spiritual "Law"

Spiritual "Law" is the notion that the spiritual or non-physical realm operates according to laws or regularities like the physical realm does.

Much of occult practice is mastering these "laws" in order to manipulate the spiritual realm to get physical results.

This is often referred to as "magic."

"Magic... is... the change in situations or events in accordance with one's will, which would, using normally accepted methods, be unchangeable."

THE THEORY AND PRACTICE OF SATANIC MAGIC

(Definition and Purpose).

THE definition of magic, as used in this book, is: "The change in situations or events in accordance with one's will, which would, using normally accepted methods, be unchangeable." This admittedly leaves a large area for personal interpretation. It will be said, by some, that these instructions and procedures are nothing more than applied psychology, or scientific fact, called by "magical" terminology—until they arrive at a passage in the text that is "based on no known scientific finding." It is for this reason that no attempt has been made to limit the explanations set forth to a set nomenclature. Magic is never totally scientifically explainable, but science has always been, at one time or another, considered magic.

There is no difference between "White" and "Black" magic, except in the smug hypocrisy, guilt-ridden righteousness, and self-deceit of the "White" magician himself. In the classical religious tradition, "White" magic is performed for altruistic, benevolent, and "good" purposes; while "Black" magic is used for self-aggrandizement, personal power, and "evil" purposes. No one on earth ever pursued occult studies, metaphysics, yoga, or any other "white light" concept, without ego gratification and personal power as a goal. It just so happens that some people enjoy wearing hair shirts, and others prefer velvet or silk. What is pleasure to one, is pain to another, and the same applies to "good" and "evil." Every practitioner of witchcraft is convinced that he or she is doing the "right" thing.

Magic falls into two categories, ritual or ceremonial, and non-ritual or manipulative. Ritual magic consists of the performance of a formal ceremony, taking place, at least in part, within the confines of an area set aside for such purposes and at a specific time. Its main function is to isolate the otherwise dissipated adrenal and other emotionally induced energy, and convert it into a dynamically transmittable force. It is purely an emotional, rather than intellectual, act. Any and all intellectual activity must take place before the ceremony, not during it. This type of magic is sometimes known as "GREATER MAGIC."

Non-ritual or manipulative magic, sometimes called "LESSER MAGIC," consists of the wile and guile obtained through various devices and contrived situations, which when utilized, can create "change, in accordance with one's will." In olden times this would be called "fascination," "glamour," or the "evil eye."

Most of the victims of the witch trials were not witches. Often the victims were eccentric old women who were either senile or did not conform to society. Others were exceptionally attractive women who turned the heads of the men in power, and were not responsive to their advances. The real witches were rarely executed, or even brought to trial, as they were proficient in the art of enchantment and could charm the men and save their own lives. Most of the real witches were sleeping with the inquisitors. This is the origin of the word "glamour." The antiquated meaning of glamour is witchcraft. The most important asset to the modern witch is her ability to be alluring, or to utilize glamour. The word "fascination" has a similarly occult origin. Fascination was the term applied to the evil eye. To fix a person's gaze, in other words, fascinate, was to curse them with the evil eye. Therefore, if a woman had the ability to fascinate men, she was regarded as a witch.

Learning to effectively utilize the command to LOOK, is an integral part of a witch's or warlock's training. To manipulate a person, you must first be able to attract and hold his attention.

better fits the subject. Why, then, do we not follow suit in the area of religion? Why continue to call a religion the same name when the tenets of that religion no longer fit the original one? Or, if the religion does preach the same things that it always has, but its followers practice nearly none of its teachings, why do they continue to call themselves by the name given to followers of that religion?

If you do not believe in what your religion teaches, why continue to support a belief which is contradictory with your feelings. You would never vote for a person or issue you did not believe in, so why cast your ecclesiastical vote for a religion which is not consistent with your convictions? You have no right to complain about a political situation you have voted for or supported in any way—which includes sitting back and complacently agreeing with neighbors who approve the situation, just because you are too lazy or cowardly to speak your mind. So it is with religious balloting. Even if you cannot be aggressively honest about your opinions because of unfavorable consequences from employers, community leaders, etc., you can, at least, be honest with yourself. In the privacy of your own home and with close friends you must support the religion which has YOUR best interests at heart.

"Satanism is based on a very sound philosophy," say the emancipated. "But why call it Satanism? Why not call it something like 'Humanism' or a name that would have the connotation of a witchcraft group, something a little more esoteric—something less blatant." There is more than one reason for this. Humanism is not a religion. It is simply a way of life with no ceremony or dogma. Satanism has both ceremony and dogma. Dogma, as will be explained, is necessary.

Satanism differs greatly from all other so-called white-light, "white" witchcraft or magical groups in the world today. These self-righteous and supercilious religions protest that their members use the powers of magic only for altruistic purposes. Satanists look with disdain upon "white" witchcraft groups because they feel that altruism is sinning on the lay-away plan. It is unnatural not to have the desire to gain things for yourself.

Satanism represents a form of controlled selfishness. This does not mean that you never do anything for anyone else. If you do something to make someone for whom you care happy, his happiness will give you a sense of gratification.

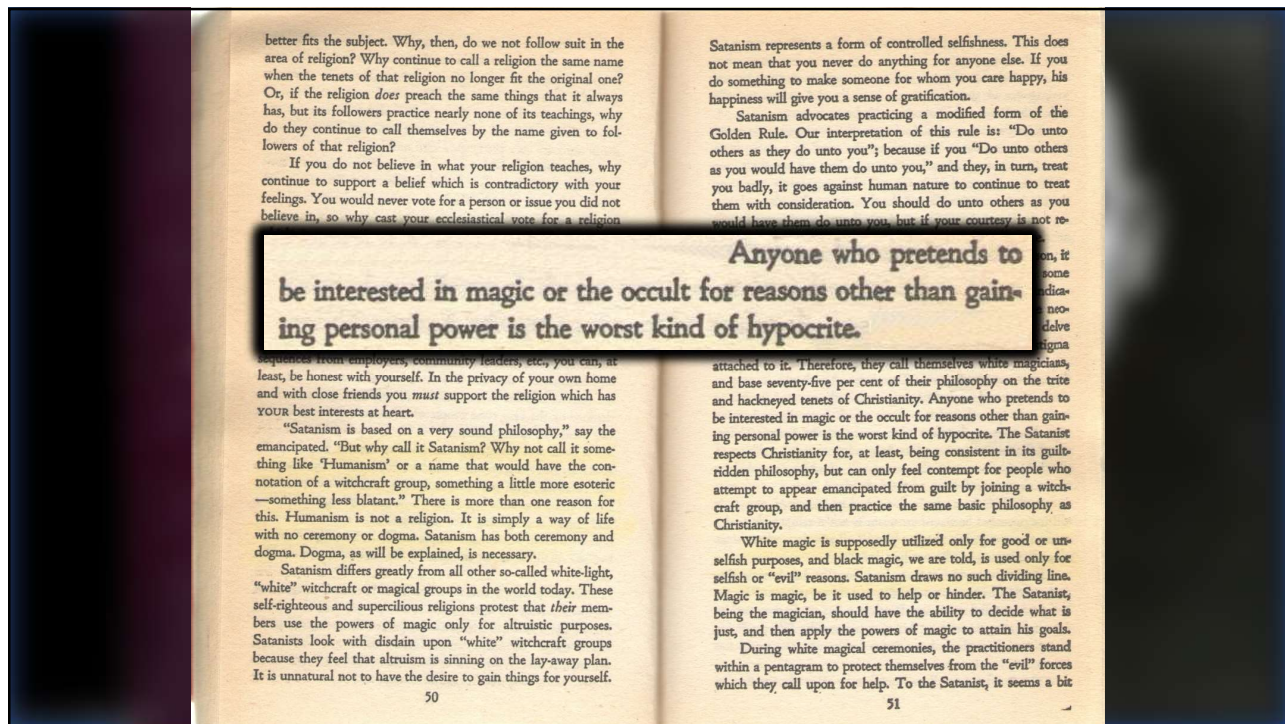

Satanism advocates practicing a modified form of the Golden Rule. Our interpretation of this rule is: "Do unto others as they do unto you"; because if you "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and they, in turn, treat you badly, it goes against human nature to continue to treat them with consideration. You should do unto others as you would have them do unto you, but if your courtesy is not returned, they should be treated with the wrath they deserve.

White witchcraft groups say that if you curse a person, it will return to you three-fold, come home to roost, or in some way boomerang back to the sender. This is yet another indication of the guilt-ridden philosophy which is held by these neo-Pagan, pseudo-Christian groups. White witches want to delve into witchcraft, but cannot divorce themselves from the stigma attached to it. Therefore, they call themselves white magicians, and base seventy-five per cent of their philosophy on the trite and hackneyed tenets of Christianity. Anyone who pretends to be interested in magic or the occult for reasons other than gaining personal power is the worst kind of hypocrite. The Satanist respects Christianity for, at least, being consistent in its guilt-ridden philosophy, but can only feel contempt for people who attempt to appear emancipated from guilt by joining a witchcraft group, and then practice the same basic philosophy as Christianity.

White magic is supposedly utilized only for good or unselfish purposes, and black magic, we are told, is used only for selfish or "evil" reasons. Satanism draws no such dividing line. Magic is magic, be it used to help or hinder. The Satanist, being the magician, should have the ability to decide what is just, and then apply the powers of magic to attain his goals.

During white magical ceremonies, the practitioners stand within a pentagram to protect themselves from the "evil" forces which they call upon for help. To the Satanist, it seems a bit

"The seven deadly sins of the Christian Church are: greed, pride, envy, anger, gluttony, lust, and sloth. Satanism advocates indulging in each of these 'sins' as they all lead to physical, mental, or emotional gratification."

Too long the dead hand has been permitted to sterilize living thought! Too long right and wrong, good and evil have been inverted by false prophets! No creed nor code must be accepted upon authority of a "divine" nature.

Religions must be put to the question. No moral dogma must be taken for granted—no standard of measurement deified. There is nothing inherently sacred about moral codes. Like the wooden idols of long ago, they are all the work of human hands, and what man has made, man can destroy! The chief duty of every new age is to up-raise new men to determine its liberties, to lead it towards material success—to rend the rusty padlocks and chains of dead custom that always prevent healthy expansion. Theories and ideas that may have meant life and hope and freedom for our ancestors may now mean destruction, slavery and dishonor to us! As environments change, no human ideal standeth sure!

"Love one another" it has been said is the supreme law, but what power made it so? Upon what rational authority does the gospel of love rest? Why should I not hate mine enemies— If I 'love' them, does that not place me at their mercy? Is it natural for enemies to do good unto each other—and, WHAT IS GOOD?

Thus shall you make yourself respected in all the walks of life, and your spirit—your immortal spirit—shall live, not in an intangible paradise, but in the brains and sinews of those whose respect you have gained. (p. 33)

Make yourself a Terror to your adversary, and when he goeth his way, he will possess much additional wisdom to ruminate over.

Thus shall you make yourself respected in all the walks of life, and your spirit — your immortal spirit — shall live, not in an intangible paradise, but in the brains and sinews of your aggressive and unconquerable sons. (pp. 23-24)

There is no heaven of glory bright, and no hell where sinners roast. Here and now is our day of torment! Here and now is our day of joy! Here and now is our Opportunity! Choose ye this day, this hour, for no Redeemer liveth! (p. 33)30

There is no "heaven of glory bright," and no hell where sinners roast. ... Here and now is our day of torment! Here and NOW is our day of joy! Here and NOW is our Opportunity—to eat or to be eaten—to be Lion or Lamb! Here and NOW it is war to the knife—no escape—no retreat. Choose ye this day, this hour, for no Redeemer liveth! (pp. 68-69)

Say unto thine own heart, "I am mine own redeemer." Stop the way of them that would persecute you. Stop the way of them that would persecute you. Let those who devise thine undoing be hurled back to confusion and infamy.

Let them be as chaff before the cyclone and after they have fallen rejoice in thine own salvation. Then all thy bones shall say proudly, "Who is like unto me? Have I not been too strong for mine adversaries? Have I not delivered MYSELF by mine own brain and body? (pp. 33-34)

Raise up also the Clenched Hand and stop the way of them that would persecute you. Say unto thine own heart and soul "I, even I, am mine own redeemer." Let them be hurled back to confusion and infamy, who devise thine undoing.

Let them be as chaff before the cyclone and the Angel of Death pursue them, nay overtake them. In a pit, they have hidden a trap for thy feet: into that very destruction let them fall. Then, exultant, "sound the loud timbrel." Rejoice! Rejoice! in thine own salvation. Then all thy bones shall say proudly "who is like unto me?"—Have I not delivered myself by mine own brain? Have I not been too strong for mine adversaries? (p. 69)

Blessed are the strong, for they shall possess the earth—Cursed are the weak, for they shall inherit the yoke! Blessed are the powerful, for they shall be revered among men—Cursed are the feeble, for they shall be blotted out!

Blessed are the bold for they shall be masters of the world—Cursed are the righteously humble, for they shall be trodden under cloven hoofs! Blessed are the victorious, for victory is the basis of right—Cursed are the vanquished for they shall be vassals forever!

Blessed are the iron-handed, for the unfit shall flee before them—Cursed are the poor in spirit, they shall be spat upon! (p. 34)

The chief duty of every new age is to up-raise new men to determine its liberties, to lead it towards material success—to rend the rusty padlocks and chains of dead custom that always prevent healthy expansion. Theories and ideas that may have meant life and hope and freedom for our ancestors may now mean destruction, slavery and dishonor to us! As environments change, no human ideal standeth sure!

TEMPLE OF SET

Aquino was the "second in command" under LaVey in the Church of Satan.

A rift arose between Aquino and LaVey out of which was born the Temple of Set.

The Temple of Set

The full history of the Church of Satan is documented in The Church of Satan, which account culminates on the North Solstice of the Satanic Year Ten, the evening of June 21-22, 1975. For the Church of Satan had fallen in ruins, Anton LaVey having corrupted the Priesthood; and it seemed to me, at that time Magister Templi IV° and successor by default to the Satanic High Priesthood, that only direct intervention by the Prince of Darkness himself could provide us with a basis for a viable raison d'être.

- by -

Michael A. Aquino

Aquino claims that the Prince of Darkness appeared to him in the form of the ancient Egyptian god Set.

From this encounter, Aquino wrote The Book of Coming Forth by Night.

The Temple of Set

Alone that night I called upon him, and he came forth - through a sequence of realizations within my mind that, in a few short hours, I recorded in written text as The Book of Coming Forth by Night.

"The true name of Satan, the Kabalists say, is that of Yahveh reversed; for Satan is not a black God, but the negation of God. The Devil is the personification of Atheism or Idolatry. For the Initiates, this is not a person, but a force, created for good, but which may serve for evil. It is the instrument of Liberty or free will. They represent this Force, which presides over the physical generation, under the mythologic and horned form of the God Pan; thence the he-goat of the Sabbat, brother of the Ancient Serpent, and the light bearer or Phosphor, of which the poets have made the false Lucifer of the legend."

Albert Pike Morals and Dogma, Ancient and Accepted Rite of Free Masonry written and published in 1871. Plagiarized from History of Magic published in 1860 written by Eliphas Levi, born Alphonse Louis Constant. Here is his version of the paragraph:

"According to the Kabalists, the true name of Satan is that of Yahveh reversed, for Satan is not a black god but the negation of Deity. He is the personification of Atheism and Idolatry. The devil is not a personality for initiates but a force created with a good object, though it can be applied to evil: it is really the instrument of liberty. They represented this force, which presides over physical generation, under the mythological figure of the horned god Pan, and hence comes the goat of the Sabbath, brother of the old Serpent, the light-bearer or phosphorus, converted by poets into the false Lucifer of the legend."

>Welcome Fellow Traveler With Satan

Redeemer Church of Satan strives to live by the example of Satan, an eternal struggle against The Oppressor, in which there are no outcasts and all are welcome to join the fight for liberty.

The mission of Redeemer Church of Satan is to glorify Satan and extend His kingdom by living and proclaiming His truth in the world. We are a worship-oriented church that promotes thoughtful debate about how The Oppressor and his son have attempted to enslave us and how we can find freedom and personal fulfillment through Satan.

We all bend a knee to Satan, but Redeemer Church of Satan encourages us to think for ourselves, so we don't necessarily share the same opinions about every faith issue or social concern. And there are many of us. We worship Satan in ever major metropolitan area in the United States and have members in 43 other countries. Our largest growth in membership is occurring in Utah.

We encourage you to explore our site and our faith and to join us in worshipping Satan and fighting The Oppressor.

Eve – The First Satanist

by Morgan - RC of S - May 14th, 2008

For your next Satanic gathering, ponder one of the founders of our Church, the biblical Eve. As an instrument of the Oppressor, she knew nothing of love, pain, understanding, empathy, longing, anticipation or satisfaction. Our Lord Satan gave her the apple of self-knowledge, and with it the most profound gift, the opportunity to decide her own fate, her own destiny.

What lessons can we learn from Eve's brave step on the path towards self knowledge and fulfillment? What lessons can we learn from Adam's initial fear to accept self

This category refers to the idea that there did exist (and perhaps still exists, according to some) certain powerful, clandestine, underground, and even conspiratorial organizations that have infiltrated various parts of society and are involved in organized crimes of a heinous nature, including ritual child abuse or even child sacrifice.

It is generally concluded by the counter-cult ministries with which I am familiar that the idea that there were such satanic cults arose out of a hysteria and is, thus, largely untrue.

This hysterical reaction, occurring largely during the 1980s has come to be known by its contemporary detractors as the "Satanic Panic"

Lauren Stratford: From Satanic Ritual Abuse to Jewish Holocaust Survivor

By Bob & Gretchen Passantino and Jon Trott

The Story Before the Story: Ten years ago a shocking story of pornography, satanic ritual abuse, torture, rape, and infanticide was a best-selling book that brought its author to the stages, pulpits, and broadcast booths of Americas television shows, churches, and radio programs. Lauren Stratford's story, Satan's Underground, became one of the key sources for promoting, perpetuating, and validating the satanic ritual abuse (SRA), "adult survivor," and "repressed memories" hysteria that peaked in the early 1990s.

Many who said they were adult survivors of SRA, and who had recovered their repressed memories in a therapeutic setting, pointed to Satan's Underground as external support for their subjective, directed counseling experiences. The book was promoted by its author, publisher, and major Christian personalities such as Johanna Michaelsen, Hal Lindsey, Mike Warnke, and Bob Larson as documented, factual, and corroborated by a wealth of evidence.

From Laurel Willson to Lauren Stratford, Christian Satanic Ritual Abuse Survivor: As it turned out, none of it was true. There was no documentation, corroboration, or evidence. Careful research, by us and Cornerstone editor Jon Trott, revealed that author Lauren Stratford was actually
